Hello, Matt, great to hear from you! Hope you had a pleasant Christmas in France.

Yes, I still have scans of the USDA aerial imagery. There are two of them, as the area of interest spans two prints (doesn't it always?).

You will want the VERY large ".tif" file-format images. They are approximately 80 MB each, so not deliverable via email!

I have uploaded them to a Microsoft SharePoint folder, where you can access and download them yourself.

You will get a separate invitation from Microsoft to the site (copy attached) that you will need to accept, but here is the link:

Personal Matters / Ex. 6

Also included in that folder is a picture of the back of one of the prints that we looked at and they sent the scans of, which shows the attribution to Fairchild Aerial Surveys. As well, there is a PDF with some interesting source information about "Flight C-3250," the flight that captured the imagery. Note that it was a 1936 flight, not 1935.

I obtained an index print of the flight from that website, however they did not have digital versions of the images available to download. Glad that we got the scans from the USDA!

I cropped a sub-image of that entire index image that shows only the two 1936 maps that we obtained. That's also included in the folder.

Hope that's all helpful, enjoy!

-James

Hi James,

Hope all is well with you and that you are enjoying the holidays. I'm on sabbatical this year, based in Lyon FR, which is great (wonderful city, great university colleagues, no teaching, just research), but still trying to follow things on Sonoita Creek.

I would like to ask a favor: Can you send me the 1935 Fairchild aerial photo that we got from USDA on our visit to the site and which we used in our report?

Thanks, and best wishes for a healthy and happy 2018,
Matt
